*An evening with Dr. Leonard J. (Joe) Nyberg Jr.
Civil War historian, collector, and author*

Dr. Nyberg has been collecting Civil War artifacts since his early childhood in Rhode Island. His interest was sparked by his great-grandfather, George B. Bennett's service in the Civil War. Nyberg will give an informal presentation about his great-grandfather's experiences while serving his country. The program will include the display of his great-grandfather's personal effects along with a wide variety of other artifacts from his personal collection.

The presentation will be at the Old Town Hall in Campton, which is handicap accessible, and is on Route 175 south. The program is free and open to the public, with refreshments served. For information about the society, check our web site at www.camptonhistorical.org

This program is sponsored by one of our business partners, the Clarke House B & B, at 25 King Road in Campton. Visit them at www.Theclarkehousebnb.com

Heritage Day is on Saturday, September 13. Mark your calendars
