F. Schuyler Mathews and Other Local Historic Notables

Presented by: Daniel Heyduk

The talk will portray five notable folks from years past (including F. Schuyler Mathews of Campton fame):

- A grassroots scientist from Meredith
- The "Birdman of Campton"
- The unlikely founder of our first zoo
- A Squam Lake visionary
- A Sandwich organizer

Dan Heyduk, Ph.D. is an anthropologist and historian who lived with native people of Mexico and Bolivia and did archaeology in Ecuador. He writes the "Passing Time" local history column in the Meredith News, is a board member of the Meredith Historical Society, and is the author of the book Meredith Chronicles about Meredith history.

The presentation will be at the Old Town Hall in Campton, which is handicap accessible, and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. For information about the Society, check our web site at www.camptonhistorical.org
